2020

FONDED · 26 SEPTEMBRE

Founded on 26 September 2020, the Traditional Culture Foundation (TCF) is dedicated to fostering international cooperation in education, the social and human sciences, and culture. TCF promotes the creative application of traditional wisdom in contemporary society, advocates for a humanistic education centered on love, encourages intercultural dialogue, and contributes to peace and sustainable development.

Ignite the Vital Spark of the Heart

TCF advocates an educational philosophy known as

“Ignite the Vital Spark of the Heart,” viewing education not merely as the transmission of knowledge, but as a process of awakening kindness and nurturing each individual’s potential for personal growth, care for others, and service to society.

Drawing Wisdom from the Past to Illuminate the Present

Guided by the principle of drawing wisdom from the past to illuminate the present while embracing innovation, TCF promotes the integration of traditional wisdom with contemporary education and explores its relevance to today's global challenges. Classical works from diverse civilizations— including The Governing Principles of Ancient China (Qunshu Zhiyao)— embody enduring principles of self-cultivation, benevolence, responsibility, and harmony, and provide valuable inspiration for TCF's educational initiatives, cultural exchanges, and international cooperation.

International Peace Forum

UNESCO Headquarters · Paris

Each year, TCF convenes the International Peace Forum at UNESCO Headquarters, bringing together representatives of international organizations, the education sector, and youth communities under themes such as “International Conference on Peace: Igniting the Vital Spark of the Heart through Traditional Culture Education for Youth.” Through these exchanges, TCF explores the role of traditional wisdom in fostering youth development, inspiring love and sincerity, strengthening social resilience, deepening intercultural dialogue, and contributing to peaceful societies.

Wisdom for a Changing World

In an era of profound global change, humanity needs, more than ever, to draw inspiration from the accumulated wisdom of diverse civilizations. Education is not only a means of transmitting knowledge, but also a vital force for fostering well-being, strengthening social resilience, and advancing educational practices rooted in love.
